Two Shea-designed restaurants now open

MINNEAPOLIS (October 27, 2010) – Shea, Inc., a Minneapolis based design and marketing firm, recently completed the design of two new restaurant concepts which are now open to the public. Whisky Park, a new club in downtown Minneapolis, opened on Saturday, October 23. In Maple Grove, a new concept called Malone's Bar & Grill, opens today.

Gene Suh, owner of the Lyndale Tap House, hired Shea to assist with the design of Whisky Park, which he describes as an urban country bar. As part of the interior design plan, Shea developed large western-themed graphic murals to set the tone of the space which features two large bars (stocked with the area's largest selection of whiskey), a dance floor and seating for about 100. Whisky Park is located at 15 S. Fifth St. in Minneapolis, which formerly housed The Lodge Bar. www.whiskyparkmpls.com

Malone's Bar & Grill is a new bar from AJ Stevens, Tom Stevens and Randy Rosengren, owners of the popular Maynard's Restaurants in Excelsior and Rogers. The new spot is located at 12635 Elm Creek Blvd N. in Maple Grove, in a site left vacant by Timber Lodge Steakhouse. Shea helped to develop the Malone's logo and worked with Zeman Construction Company on a complete overhaul of the interior. A warm and inviting dining room features a stone fireplace and oversized specialty booths. A large bar area has a comfortable neighborhood feel with multiple flat screen TVs for broadcasting various sporting events. The menu features many of the same dishes made popular at Maynard's.
